Robert Padilla is Celebrating Over 30 Years of Craftsmanship and Community Commitment

Elite Wrought Iron Gates & Fences is a proud exception in a world increasingly driven by speed and mass production. This locally rooted, family-owned business has delivered timeless design, custom craftsmanship, and outstanding customer service across Southern California for over three decades.

With a reputation built on integrity and artistry, they continue transforming properties through stunning, hand-forged ironwork—one gate at a time.

Founded over 30 years ago by a team of skilled artisans, Elite Wrought Iron Gates & Fences began with a simple yet powerful mission: to blend elegance with security in every piece of work. Today, the company is known for its distinctive designs and a profoundly personal approach to customer care and long-term community relationships.

“We aim to add value to our customers by giving them the best results and customer experience,” said Robert Padilla, owner of Elite Wrought Iron Gates & Fences. “We provide quality work and build long-term relationships. Our customers ultimately become our friends.”

Serving the Region with Pride

Headquartered in Southern California, Elite Wrought Iron Gates & Fences proudly serves communities across Corona, Eastvale, Orangecrest, Riverside, Alessandro Heights, and surrounding areas. Over the years, the company has completed hundreds of successful installations for private homeowners, designers, and commercial clients.

Their work can be seen enhancing homes in neighborhoods from Lake Elsinore to Murrieta, continuously contributing to the property's curb appeal, security, and overall character.

Trusted by the Community

The longevity of Elite Wrought Iron Gates & Fences' presence in the community is matched by its strong reputation. With a near-perfect Google rating and dozens of glowing customer reviews, the company continues to be recognized not just for its products but for how it treats its clients.

Customers consistently highlight their punctuality, communication, attention to detail, and how they make the process seamless from design to installation. More than just vendors, the team operates as partners—listening closely, adjusting to evolving needs, and ensuring every client feels heard.

One local homeowner wrote in a recent review:

"Elite exceeded our expectations in every way. The custom gate they built is a work of art. Robert and his crew were professional, courteous, and meticulous. We couldn't be happier."

Looking Ahead with Integrity and Vision

As Elite Wrought Iron Gates & Fences enters its next chapter, the company is focused on continuing its legacy of innovation and service. Plans include expanding service areas, investing in new fabrication technologies, and deepening partnerships with local designers and builders. However, the core philosophy remains the same: premium-quality craftsmanship, personalized service, and a true passion for ironwork.

The company is also taking steps toward sustainability, sourcing responsibly and minimizing material waste, while upholding the traditional techniques that have defined their brand since day one.
